DR SACE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

It is the only form of instrument yet invented with which finid medicine can be carried high nymed perfectly applied to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities can manicating therewith, in which sores and alcerafrequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. The want of success in treating Catarrh heretofore has arisen largely from the impossibility of applying remedies to these cavities and chambers by any of the ordinary methods. This obstacle in the way of effecting cares is entirely overcome by the invention of the Douche. In using this instrument, the Fight's carried by its own weight, (no snuffing forcing or pumping being required,) up one nostril in a full gently thowing stream to the highest portion of the masal passages, passes into and thoroughly cleamerall his tubes and chambers connected therewith, all flows out of the opposite nostril. Its use is pleasant for the opposite nostril. Its use is pleasant connected therewith, all flows out of the opposite nostril. Its use is pleasant connected therewith. DEPARTMENT.
